Death of a Senator.

James B. Beck, of Kentucky, Drops Dead

IN A RAILWAY STATION.

Returning to Washington From a Visit to New York, and While Walking to a Carriage, Leaning on the Arm of His Daughter, He Suddenly Expires.

SENATOR BECK.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—Senator James B. Beck, of Kentucky, dropped dead in the Baltimore and Potomac station at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon. He had just arrived on the limited express from New York, and was accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Goodloe, wife of Maj. Goodloe, of the United States marine corps. He got off the train with the rest of the passengers, walked with his daughter the entire length of the platform and through the gate leading to the station proper.

He seemed to walk with an effort and breathe with labor, but these symptoms were the usual accompaniments of exertion with him for some months past. After passing into the station the senator and his daughter stopped and were joined by his private secretary, who had brought a carriage to take them home. A few words were exchanged with regard to the care of baggage, when the senator suddenly turned pale and with the remark, "I feel dizzy," fell into the arms of his companions. They could not support his weight, and he dropped to the floor, where he swooned away. His daughter was naturally alarmed and screamed for help. Willing hands were numerous, as the station was crowded at the time, and the limp and helpless body was borne into the office of the station-master, about twenty feet away.

Great excitement ensued, and although it was apparent that the senator was dead, half a dozen messengers were immediately dispatched for physicians, and all the remedies at hand were applied, but to no effect. Dr. Chamberlain was the first physician to arrive, and he was soon followed by Dr. Wells and others, but there was nothing for them to do except to examine the body to determine the cause of death. A superficial examination only was possible at the time, but this was sufficient to satisfy the physicians that death resulted from paralysis of the heart. The news was telegraphed to the capitol, and subsequently spread like wildfire to all sections of the city. Representatives Breckinridge, Carnahan, Stone and others of the Kentucky congressional delegation repaired to the station at once and arranged for the removal of the remains to a more suitable place.

The body of Senator Beck was removed from the station to the house of Representative Breckinridge of Kentucky on Capitol Hill. The remains were taken in charge by Undertaker Barker and later in the evening were embalmed. Maj. and Mrs. Goodloe, the son-in-law and daughter of Mr. Beck, have expressed a willingness to leave all arrangements for the funeral in the hands of the Kentucky delegation in congress. The body will be removed to Lexington, Ky., Senator Beck's home, and will be interred there where his wife and one daughter lie buried. Mr. Beck left a son named George, who at present is somewhere in Wyoming, but the telegraph has been put to use and he will be informed of his father's death. The only other child left by Mr. Beck is his daughter, Mrs. Goodloe.

Senator Beck was born in Scotland, Feb. 13, 1822, and coming to this country as a youth, graduated in law at Transylvania university, Lexington, Ky., in 1846. He practiced law in Kentucky for many years and held no office until he was elected to congress in 1869. He remained a member of the house of representatives for eight years when he was elected to the senate. He took his seat in the senate March 5, 1877, and he was twice re-elected.

In the senate Mr. Beck was for many years a member of the committee on appropriations and the committee on finance and he was admittedly the best informed Democrat in the senate on the tariff question and always a leader in the debates on silver.

Senator Beck had not been regular in his attendance upon the sessions of the senate for two years, and was in his seat but a few times this congress. The last legislation of general importance with which he was connected was the "undervaluation bill," which passed the senate in March, 1888. He worked on that measure with constant devotion, says Senator Allison, who was associated with him until it was disposed of. One morning shortly afterwards he came into the room of the appropriations committee saying he had been sick the night before and was not then feeling well. That was the first time he had been known to be sick, and from that time forward he was never a well man again.

During the debate that occurred on the tariff bill that was reported to the senate as a substitute for the Mills bill he was not able to take a part, and his absence was a great loss to the Democratic ranks. He was not able to be present at the opening of the special session of the senate in March, 1889, and was sworn in by President pro tem. Ingalls some days afterward. He visited the capitol occasionally since the opening of the Fifty-first congress, but took no part in the proceedings except to vote. His last appearance in the senate chamber was on the day the case of the new Montana senators, Saunders and Powers, was settled.

At 4:30 Senator Harris sent to the desk of the presiding officer of the senate and had read a bulletin reading: "Senator Beck dropped dead in the Baltimore and Potomac depot." The announcement caused a great shock in the chamber, and Senator Harris said: "In view of the sad news contained in that announcement, I move that the senate do now adjourn." The motion was agreed to, and the senators gathered in knots to discuss the startling event.

All about the capital were heard the most sincere and earnest expressions of regret. Mr. Beck was extremely popular with the members of the senate and its employees and officers alike. He had many warm friends on the Republican side of the chamber and no enemies.

Arrangements for Senator Beck's funeral are nearly completed. The formal announcement of his death will be made in the senate by Senator Blackburn to-day, and the senate will at once adjourn, and on Tuesday the funeral services will be held in the senate chamber. This being suspension day in the house, Mr. Carlisle will not formally announce the death of Senator Beck until after consultation with Speaker Reed, and so it is probable the house will not adjourn until late in the afternoon.

After the funeral services on Tuesday the senator's remains will be taken over the Chesapeake and Ohio road to Lexington, Ky., where the funeral will take place on Thursday. All of the Kentucky delegation in congress will accompany the remains to Lexington and attend the funeral there.

The following named gentlemen, intimate friends of the dead senator, have been selected by the family as pallbearers and will also go to Lexington: Ex-Congressman Trimble, ex-Congressman Phil. D. Thompson and O. O. Stealey and R. C. Wintersmith, of Kentucky; L. Q. Washington and William R. Smith. The usual congressional committee to accompany the remains to Lexington, will be announced to-day.

Senator Beck's remains will be taken to the capital this afternoon, and, surrounded by a guard of honor of senate officials, will lie in state in the senate corridor until Tuesday noon. The body will then be taken into the senate chamber, where, at 1 o'clock, the obsequies will be held. Senator Blackburn will deliver an oration.

The death of Mr. Beck has started discussion on the question of his successor in the senate. Mr. Carlisle is by common consent conceded to be the most prominent Kentuckian for the place, but there are a number of Democrats who do not approve of his transfer from the house, where he is, and has been such a leading figure. The names of Col. Breckinridge, ex-Governor McCreary, Governor S. B. Buckner, James A. McKenzie, J. Proctor Knott and Judge William Lindsay were mentioned in this connection.

SHOT FROM AMBUSH.

A Boy Murders His Benefactor at the Instigation of an Enemy.

WINAMAC, Ind., May 5.—James McMannis, better known as "Uncle Jimmy Boyles," a wealthy farmer, was found murdered Saturday. McMannis came from Ireland to this country at an early day, being one of our earliest settlers, and assumed the name of James Boyles.

After working on the Mississippi and Ohio rivers for a few years he located in this county, bringing with him a woman whom everybody supposed to be his wife. But after living happily together for a number of years, and having born unto them one child, a woman from his native land, who proved to be his real wife, came to his home in 1864 and assumed the role of lady of the house. Woman No. 2 gave way with a murmur, and took up her abode in Lafayette, this state.

Not long ago, John Low, a German tenant living on one of Uncle Jimmy's farms, had some little trouble with him, as a result of which he determined to put an end to Uncle Jimmy's life. He sought out Michael Conner, a youth 16 years old, who has made his home with Uncle Jimmy since 4 years old, and after some coaxing persuaded him to kill his benefactor. Saturday, as the old man was coming to this city, he was ambushed by Conner and his head shot almost off. Word was sent that Uncle Jimmy had dropped dead, but the coroner's investigation developed the above facts. Low and Conner were arrested, and the former has confessed.

Is Marriage a Failure?

LAPORTE, Ind., May 5.—Thomas A. Wedge was granted a decree of divorce in the Elkhart county circuit court Saturday, and was again married the same day. This is Wedge's fifth matrimonial venture. He was divorced from his first wife in April, 1880. He was again married, divorcing wife No. 2 in August. Wife No. 3 was legally separated from him in October. Friday he obtained a decree from his fourth wife. Three divorces were obtained in this county and one in Elkhart. Five wives in less than one year is quite a record.

NEW YORK, May 3.—Daniel F. Gibbons, counsel to and late a member of the board of electrical control, formerly private secretary to Hon. Roswell P. Flower, died last night of pneumonia.

Murder in the First Degree.

PHILADELPHIA, May 3.—John McMannis, who has been on trial for the murder of his friend, Eugene Maginnis, was at 6:45 p. m., yesterday, found guilty of murder in the first degree.

Labor Demonstration.

Half a Million People Meet in London.

A MONSTER LABOR PROCESSION.

Two Hundred Thousand Men in Line—A Memorable Day to the Working Classes of England—Labor Troubles in Spain and Elsewhere—Other Foreign Dispatches.

LONDON, May 5.—Yesterday should become a memorable one in the history of demonstrations on the part of the laboring classes of England, for it has never been equaled since the days of monster outpourings of the people which characterized the reform movement of 1867. The most moderate estimate of the number of people taking part in the Hyde park meeting yesterday is half a million, of which 200,000 came in the processions and 300,000 gathered at will. This is a very conservative calculation, however, and some observers accustomed to gauge large crowds do not hesitate to assert that fully one million people participated in the demonstration.

There were 150 bands of music in the processions. The affair was a three-headed one, the largest number of men being under the leadership of the trades' council—a distinctively non-Socialistic body. A somewhat less numerous contingent acknowledged the leadership of the central committee, which leans strongly toward Socialism; while a third and relatively small division was under the control of the out and out Socialist organization known as the Social Democratic Federation. All possibility of strife or friction among the various bodies had been avoided by careful previous arrangements, and for once people of all shades of opinion in the labor question joined in a common movement.

The speeches of the trade council leaders were moderate in tone. These orators claimed that the Socialists initiated the eight-hour movement. They urged their hearers to consider that movement as only the first step in the advance toward the complete enfranchisement of workers. Mr. Hyndman apologized to their brethren on the continent for the failure of British Socialists to gather on the 1st of May, explained that the failure was due to the different circumstances existing in this country from those abroad. His remarks were greatly applauded. The Socialist speakers also denounced Mr. Bradlaugh and John Morley as men who had proved false to the cause of industrial freedom which they had pretended to espouse. Among other speakers at these stands were Mr. Cunningham Grahame, John Burns and Mrs. Besant.

There were fourteen platforms altogether in the park. Michael Davitt was one of the orators. The railway workers were out in great force, their unions forming a separate branch of parade. The speaking began before 4 and was over by 6 o'clock, shortly after which hour the park began to resume its normal aspect. A noteworthy fact is that the police not only refrained from interference, but actually absented themselves. There was not an officer's uniform visible in the vast assemblage. In the background, however, and along the neighboring places the practiced eye can discern evidences of reserve forces being available.

After the speaking, resolutions in favor of the eight-hour system were passed with a hurrah, the processions quickly reformed and the dispersal began. There was no revolutionary music played by the bands in the processions, only National airs being heard. The great majority of demonstrators represented the solid, respectable class of workingmen. The percentage of ragtag and bobtail was remarkably small for a London parade. The number of marchers is estimated at between 175,000 and 200,000.

The Demonstrations in Spain.

MADRID, May 5.—An extensive demonstration was made here yesterday. After listening to violent speeches the participants marched to the residence of Premier Sagasta, who received a deputation bearing resolutions in favor of eight hours. Senor Sagasta refused to consider the subject matter of resolutions, whereupon the deputation informed him that the eight-hour concession by legal means if possible, but otherwise by force. There was no disorder.

Labor meetings were held in Barcelona and all the other large cities of Spain. Petitions were adopted everywhere asking the governors of provinces to favor legislation looking to the adoption of the eight-hour day. All the demonstrations were of an orderly character.

Numerous strikers have offered to return to work if they can be guaranteed protection.

Rioting in Barcelona.

BARCELONA, May 5.—The strikers again assembled in the streets last night by thousands. The troops ordered them to disperse, but the mob replied by firing revolvers at the soldiers. The latter returned the fire, wounding those of the rioters and then charged upon the crowd with fixed bayonets dispersing them and wounding many. A large number of the fleeing mob were arrested. One of the strikers arrested Saturday was arraigned in court and sentenced to imprisonment at hard labor for life for wounding a policeman. Five others were sentenced to ten years' imprisonment at hard labor each for preventing non-strikers from working.

Labor Troubles in France.

PARIS, May 5.—The situation at Turcoing is tranquil. At Roubaix the strike continues, and there was much disorder Saturday night, some arrests being necessary; yesterday, however, passed without trouble. The employers and their workmen have not been able to reach an agreement, and there are fears of renewed rioting.

The mayor of Roubaix has asked for reinforcements, and 800 dragoons were sent there to-day. Cavalry are patrolling the streets. Though no outbreak has yet occurred, the outbreak is threatening.

Whydah Bombarded.

PARIS, May 5.—The government is advised that a French warship bombarded Whydah for two days. The French commander then sent to the king an ultimatum demanding the instant surrender of all European prisoners, otherwise he would resume the bombardment. The inhabitants of Whydah are panic stricken and are fleeing to the interior. The Dahomian army is encamped about seventy kilometers north of Port Novo.

Strikers Camping Out.

BUDAPEST, May 5.—Fifteen hundred bakers here have struck and have camped in tents upon an island in the Danube. They have cattle with them, and can subsist for some time. They have been joined by 700 striking girls from the jute factories. Five hundred bakers have been detailed from the army and ordered to Pesh.

Strike in Railway Factories.

VIENNA, May 5.—Strikes have occurred simultaneously in the state railway factories at Vienna, Prague, Pesh and Temesvar. The director of railways threatens to dismiss all the strikers unless they return to work at once.

Municipal Election in Paris.

PARIS, May 5.—The balloting in the municipal election yesterday resulted in the return of 53 Republicans, 5 Conservatives and 1 Boulangist. The council will stand 65 Republicans, 13 Conservatives and 2 Boulangists.

A Mass Meeting in Lisbon.

LISBON, May 5.—An orderly mass meeting of workmen was held yesterday at which resolutions were adopted requesting parliament to provide regulations of work in factories.

Railway Strike Ended.

DUBLIN, May 5.—The railway strike is ended.

A CONFLAGRATION.

Business Portion of Gilboa, N. Y., Destroyed, Entailing a Loss of $175,000.

GILBOA, N. Y., May 5.—Sunday morning a fire broke out in the arcade, a large wooden building in this village, and the flames quickly spread to adjoining buildings, which were soon enveloped in flames.

There being no means of extinguishing fire, the whole village was at the mercy of the flames. The entire business portion of the town was destroyed, twenty-two buildings in all. Not a store is left in the town, and most of the stocks were destroyed. The loss is estimated at from $150,000 to $175,000, insurance estimated at about $50,000.

A New French Colony or Annexation.

MONTREAL, May 5.—L. O. David, member of parliament, for Montreal East, whose appointment for high sheriff of the city will be officially announced upon Monday next, says he strongly approves of the separation of Quebec from the rest of the Dominion, and a formation of a new French colony on the banks of the St. Lawrence, or else the annexation of the province of Quebec to the United States. Such action, he declares, will be legal if French is abolished as an official language.

Drowned Girl's Body Recovered.

LOVELAND, O., May 5.—The body of Miss Anna Moore, who was drowned by being carried into the Little Miami river by a landslide during the flood of March 13, was recovered Saturday. The body had been lodged at the mouth of Law's creek, where it was washed out by the flood of Friday, and found Saturday lodged on the dam below town. The body was badly decomposed, but was identified by the clothing. The body was taken at once to the Miamiville cemetery and buried.

Race of Ringers.

LOGANSPOUT, Ind., May 5.—A one-hundred-yard race for a purse of $1,000, took place here yesterday between a sprinter giving his name as St. Clair, of Wisconsin, and a man named Jent, of Marion, Ind., but who is said to be Gibbons, an English professional. St. Clair won easily, time ten and one-fourth seconds and $2,000 changed hands on the result. Both men are supposed to be "ringers."

Woman Killed by Hogs.

COLUMBUS, Ind., May 3.—On Friday morning Mrs. Mary McNamee, an aged lady living near this place, went out to see some hogs in a field near by. While so engaged she fainted and fell among them, and being helpless, the hogs made an attack upon her and tore the flesh from her arms and lower limbs. She suffered intense pain until noon, Saturday, when she died.

Cattle Killed by a Cyclone.

KYLE, Tex., May 5.—Information from Rache, Tex., is to the effect that 150 cattle belonging to the Toyah Land and Cattle company were killed by a cyclone a week ago. Many others were injured.

Death of Bishop Borgess at Kalamazoo.

KALAMAZOO, Mich., May 5.—Bishop Casper Borgess, stricken with paralysis at St. Augustine deanery last Sunday night, died at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, aged 62.

AUGUSTA, Ga., May 5.—It is reported that County Treasurer J. E. Murray, of Aiken county, S. C., is short in his cash to the amount of $17,000 or $18,000. The matter is now being investigated by the state comptroller. Mr. Murray says he does not know what has become of the money. The state is protected by a bond for $20,000.

ROSSER & MCCARTHY,

MONDAY, MAY 5, 1890.

Senator Beck.

The death stroke that laid low Kentucky's distinguished Senator, Hon. James B. Beck, fell with startling suddenness.

Mr. Beck had been in failing health a year or more, yet his most intimate friends had no thought that he was so near the verge of the grave.

Chatting pleasantly with his daughter and some friends one moment, and then a few brief minutes later the loving father and the brilliant statesman had responded to the messenger of death and left the busy scenes of this life for the life beyond.

The first news of Mr. Beck's death received in this city was a telegram from Congressman Paynter to the BULLETIN, briefly announcing the fact. It was but a few minutes before the news was generally known on the street, and expressions of sorrow were heard on every hand. The distinguished Senator was popular here as elsewhere and numbered many of our citizens among his warmest friends and admirers.

"The country loses a friend," truthfully remarks an exchange speaking of Mr. Beck's death. Yes, and the Democracy has lost one of its ablest and most ardent advocates, Kentucky one of most distinguished men and honored citizens and the Nation a sturdy, honest statesman.

The Australian System.

The Owensboro Inquirer, in urging the adoption of the Australian ballot system for elections in that city, says that it "would remove all pretext for collecting money to print tickets and to pay holders. Thus the legitimate expenditures of a campaign, apart from the hiring of speakers and brass bands, would be reduced to a very low figure. This scheme will be bad for the needy assistants of politicians who live from campaign to campaign by collecting money from saloon-keepers for 'the campaign fund.'"

This is one of the most desirable features of the system. There is a horde of hungry cormorants who make it a business to fleece candidates, and a swarm of ward bummers who revel in free whisky, live high during election times, and seldom see a square meal at other seasons. These creatures will be driven to earn an honest living, or to break rock for their board and lodging at the city's expense.

"Then," says the Inquirer, "no one man can arrogate to himself the power of voting all men laboring under him." That is precisely the reason Republican politicians oppose the Australian or any other plan to make the ballot strictly secret. They have a system of bulldozing and terrorizing employees by which they compel the support of thousands of voters who would vote with the Democratic party if they were not afraid of being thrown out of employment. To a workingman, especially if he has a family, bread and butter is naturally and necessarily the first consideration.—Covington Commonwealth.

The Press and the Democracy.

That was a significant statement of First Assistant Postmaster General Clarkson a few days ago in which he admitted the "superior progress of Democratic newspaper and periodical literature, in which the Republicans used to lead." He deplored the fact, but how are the Republicans going to help it? It is a condition to be deplored and to be dreaded too by the Republicans, for it speaks strongly of the onward march of Democracy. "For years and years after the war," says an exchange, "and during all the years of the war, the press of the country fought the battle of the Republican party, but it is now fighting the Democratic battle. It works unceasing, and its effect is tremendous.

"Prior to 1884 the New York Times, Evening Post, Commercial Advertiser, Harper's Weekly and Puck were potent champions of the Republican party; now they are the ablest advocates of Democracy, and at the Metropolis, the Tribune and the Press are about the only organs of the g. o. p. worth mentioning.

"The Herald is the leading paper of Boston, and take the whole press of New England and it will found that the four leading newspapers, the Herald and Globe of Boston, the Republican of Springfield and the Journal of Providence, are all advocating the Democratic cause. The two leading papers of Philadelphia are Democratic, and in Chicago the leading paper is Democratic, while the leading Republican paper is for free trade, and the same is true of St. Paul.

"Our people get their opinions from newspapers, and as Mr. Clarkson admits, at this particular time, the press of the country leans to the Democracy."

THE Pin Hook correspondent of the Mt. Olivet Democrat says: "Hon. Thos. H. Paynter has sent his constituents here a number of copies of the Hon. Dan Voorhees' speech recently delivered in the U. S. Senate. Both Democratic and Republican farmers pronounce it the best speech ever made in their behalf."

TO THE DEMOCRACY.

Conventions Called to Select Delegates to State and District Meetings.

Also to Nominate a Candidate for Delegate to the Constitutional Convention.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Democratic party of Mason County, called by its Chairman as per call of the State committee, it was decided that the Democrats of Mason County meet in their respective precincts on Saturday, May 10, 1890, at 2 o'clock p. m., to select delegates to the county convention on May 17, 1890, at which latter date delegates are to be selected to the State convention that meets at Louisville on May 28, 1890, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Clerk of the Court of Appeals. The county convention shall be called at 2 o'clock p. m., at the court house in Maysville, Ky.

It is also ordered that the same delegates, who are selected at the precinct meetings on May 10, shall be empowered to nominate, on May 17, a candidate to represent the County of Mason in the convention to frame a new Constitution for the State of Kentucky.

In pursuance of the call for a Superior Court convention, it is now ordered by the Executive Committee of Mason County that the Democrats of Mason County shall meet in mass convention at the court house in Maysville on Monday, May 12, 1890, (county court day) at 2 o'clock p. m., to select delegates to represent Mason County at the convention to be held at Lexington, Ky., on June 11, 1890, at 12 noon, to nominate a candidate for the office of Judge of the Third Superior Court District.

In selecting delegates the Cleveland and Thurman vote shall be the basis of representation.

THOS. J. CHENOWETH,

Chairman Executive Committee.

GARRETT S. WALL, Secretary.

"GERRYMANDERING DOOMED" is the way the Commercial Gazette headlines an article in reference to the McComas Bill. It's our honest opinion that the Democrats will not be the losers by an honest, impartial enforcement of this bill. The North is filled with States that have been outrageously gerrymandered by the Republicans.

THE Home and Foreign Missionary Society of the Central Presbyterian Church will meet in the lecture room on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Here and There.

Captain A. C. Respass has returned from a business trip East.

Miss Sallie McDaniel has returned from a visit to her sister, Mrs. Lottie Bacon, near Tuckahoe.

Mrs. Sidney Neale and daughter, Miss Hattie, of Washington, D. C., are the guests of Mrs. Dr. Russell.

Mr. Arthur Rogers, formerly a citizen of Maysville but now living at Cleveland, O., is in town on a visit to friends.

Mr. J. N. Kehoe, of Evansville, Ind., assistant attorney for the L. and N. Railroad Company, is in town on a visit to his mother.

Mrs. Hannah Bland, of Canton, Mo., is the guest of Mrs. H. H. Cox, of the East End. Mrs. Bland is a daughter of Colonel Berry Martin, who was the first resident proprietor of East Maysville.

For the Farmer and Stockman.

The growing wheat gives promise of a fine crop.

Country itemizers report an abundance of tobacco plants; but they are small.

Aberdeen, by Rysdyk's Hambletonian, has twenty-one in the 2:30 list, among them Hattie Woodward, 2:15½, (a great campaigner), Waunita, three years, 2:20½, Modoc, 2:19½, Mulatto, 2:22, Hugh McLaughlin, 2:23, and five others, below 2:25. One of his sons, Sir Walter, 2:18½, put four in the list, and his son, Sir Walter, Jr., put four in the list in 1890, besides is the grandsire of Malacca, 2:24½, Orianna, 2:25, Sir Walter, Jr., 2:18½, Minot, 2:26½, Mollie G., 2:26½, and sixteen others with records below 2:30.

The Brooks-Waterfield Company, of Covington, has brought suit in the United States Court at Cincinnati to enforce a judgment for $6,371.62 recovered in 1886 against Robert C. Brookover and wife, Catharine Roush, Robert Ellison and Robert F. Collins, of Adams County, Ohio, and Henry Hoffman, of the Queen City.

An exchange is authority for the statement that there is a minister in Louisville who has been pastor of his church for ten years, and yet, through a series of coincidences, has never officiated at a marriage, funeral or baptism. He has never shunned these offices either, but just happened to be absent when his services were required.

Mrs. THEO. MACHENHEIMER, formerly of this city but now of Pine Bluff, Ark., was the recipient of a fine sewing machine given away a few days ago at Little Rock by the Singer Company. The company held an art exhibition and each lady that visited it was given a chance on the machine. Over three thousand ladies attended and Mrs. Machenheimer held the lucky ticket, and got a $65 machine.

STEVE HOLCOMBE'S sermons at the South Methodist Church yesterday, morning and evening, made a deep impression on the large audiences. His subject at 11 o'clock was "The Preserving and Life-giving Power of Christianity." During this sermon the indifferent and unfaithful church members received some severe blows. The subject in the evening was "The Method of Saving a Soul." The key note to this discourse was love. He said he loved the gambler and bar-room keeper, but hated his sins, and let him understand it. Mr. Holcombe has won sinners by the hundreds to Christ in the way he taught last night. He preaches again this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

"RIVERSIDE."

The Bulletin's Itemizer Talks About Progress in the West End.

Your Riverside correspondent comes to the front again, and he can hardly refrain from doing so, especially, after waiting and watching for years he finds that his predictions are about being realized. His pleasanties, which heretofore caused a stoppage of his communications, by parties unknown, were, at the time, written with a view to please everybody and an intention only of giving facts, prophecies, jokes and truth. The waiting develops the fact that no correspondent has taken his place, and he finds with pleasure on his return that Riverside is improving and that Plugetown is no more.

The beautiful Ohio still sweeps silently and grandly by in its flow to the sea, and the hills beyond with their drapery of green stand out in prominence—God's grand and everlasting landscape, the beauty and wonder of Riverside's appreciative eye. Some changes have occurred. The railroad is a fixed fact, and real estate is enjoying a boom beyond predictions.

The beautiful property formerly owned by Thomas M. Green has changed hands, and is now in possession of Pogue & Thomas, the sly gobbies of real estate in Riverside.

Poyntz Bros., beyond expectation and prediction, have extended their warehouse room to the point of filling up all their space of surplus ground, to give storage capacity for their splendid whisky.

H. E. Pogue, since last report, has renovated and improved his distillery, putting in new copper stills, copper mash tubs, &c. He has also erected a warehouse which, at present, is full, and an additional one will be built shortly.

J. H. Rogers has added to the storage capacity of his establishment, by elevating his warehouse another story. His available ground is now occupied and warehouse full.

The three distilleries, now about on a par so far as quality and extent of manufacture is concerned, make an average of 7,000 barrels per year, and the employment this industry gives to labor in this vicinity is a great blessing. The beautiful homes along the banks and streets of Riverside, with their cultivated gardens, decorated yards and tidy improvements, to say nothing of flowers, is some indication of this.

There is another industry to speak of. It is the Standard Oil Company works with a capacity of 15,000 barrels per year. Walter Blatterman has charge, and his territory for the sale of oil embraces Ashland to Carrollton on the river, and Paris to Cynthiana on the K. C. R. R.

Passing along the foot of the hills, notice is taken of the improvements above. Perry Rudy has erected a large and commodious home. Tim Mendel has also concluded to quit renting in Maysville, and has built a home on his lot adjoining the old homestead where he was born.

The revenue department in Riverside compares favorably with predecessors, except that the officers seem to be afraid to put their heads out of the windows for fear of being put "in a hole," but that is nothing to their discredit. Really, there is no better service in this country than is given by the revenue officials in this county. They are certainly attentive to duty and all intelligent gentlemen.

Space is valuable, and this communication must stop. The next will be headed West End, provided the critics don't bloom too numerous.

The Swiss Cure for Drunkenness.
An habitual drunkard in Norway and Sweden renders himself liable to imprisonment for his love for strong drink, and during his incarceration he is required to submit to a plan of treatment for the cure of his failing, which is said to produce marvelous results. The plan consists in making the delinquent subsist entirely on bread and wine. The bread is steeped in a bowl of wine for an hour or more before the meal is served. The first day the habitual toper takes feed in this shape without repugnance; the second day he finds it less agreeable to his palate; finally he positively loathes the sight of it. Experience shows that a period of from eight to ten days of this regimen is generally more than sufficient to make a man evince the greatest aversion to any thing in the shape of wine. Many men after their incarceration become total abstainers.—Exchange.

Progress.

It is very important in this age of vast material progress that a remedy be pleasing to the taste and to the eye, easily taken, acceptable to the stomach, and healthy in its nature and effects. Possessing these qualities, Syrup of Figs is the one perfect laxative and most gentle diuretic known.

Railway News.

Mr. Cadmus B. Williams, who recently resigned as Auditor of the N. N. and M. V., will likely be given a position on the Southern Pacific.

On the Chesapeake and Ohio, during the month of January, 1890, on the line east of Huntington, that is the old O. and O. railway without the Cincinnati division, revenue from local traffic increased 52 per cent., while the revenue from through traffic increased 46½ per cent. The revenue per mile has increased 4 per cent. on local business, although the local tariff has been reduced from 3½ to 3 cents per mile. The revenue per mile on through business increased 10 per cent. The Cincinnati Division handled no through passengers in January, 1889, consequently no comparison can be made for that part of the line, but its importance to the main line is apparent in the picturesque showing made by the latter portion of the line.—Commercial Gazette.

The Vanceburg Times has kicked clear out of the Republican traces and is now a red-hot Farmers' Alliance advocate. The Farmers' Alliance, by the way, is giving the leaders of that Republican stronghold no end of worry just now, and there are indications that it will materially change the political complexion of Lewis County in a short time. Read what the Times had to say in its last issue: "Hon. S. G. Hillis has asked the Legislature to charter almost everything that Lewis Countians could ask, but now he has gone one step farther and asked a Democratic Legislature to charter the Republican party! Great Scott! Here's gall for you that shows the fine Italian hand of the manager for whom Hillis is only the 'advance skirmisher,' making another effort to 'bust the Alliance or buy it.' Incorporate the Republican League! yes indeed; to give them power to collect boodle to keep a few party bosses, who claim to be the party, perpetually in office."

OUR NEIGHBORS.

HELENA.

Mrs. Lizzie Johnson has gone to Missouri, where she will visit her parents several months.

Miss Anna Kirkland, one of Helena's fairest blondes, and Misses Anna and Hattie Ford, of Fair Play, have gone to Lebanon, O., where they will attend college for three months.

The singing class were highly entertained at Mrs. Robt. Cook's the other evening. The class meet now and then with different families to keep in practice, and being sociable with the good people of the neighborhood some get offended if they do not have a special invitation. The choir invites no special one, but wants all to attend the meetings and take part in them.

MAYSICK.

This place is improving. Mike Mulrona is laying some nice, smoothie side-walks of stone and gravel.

Very few went to Maysville last week to see the big show.

Mrs. D. H. Baldwin, of Cincinnati, a lady well known in Mason and Fleming counties, is visiting the family of Frank Laytham.

Miss Sallie Jones left Saturday morning to visit her aunt at Hillsboro, Fleming County, Mrs. George Gray, nee Miss A. Raymond.

J. A. Jackson and son, Master Mitchell, left Monday morning for Paris. They will spend a few days with his mother-in-law, Mrs. Mary A. Collins, on Cane Ridge.

Colonel John B. Herndon, of the Desha Valley, gave us a short, but very pleasant chat last Friday on his way home from the Turner-Laytham wedding.

We had some frost during the week. No damage done.

J. A. Jackson has nice cabbage and tomato plants on sale; spring chickens and cheaper goods than anybody else.

Washington Dispatches

Probable Program of the Present Week of Congress.

NOTHING STARTLING EXPECTED.

The Death of Senator Beck Will Slightly Disturb the Transactions of the Senate, and the House Will Also Lose One Day to Attend the Funeral—Other National News.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—The great tariff debate opens in the house this week. It is to begin Tuesday if nothing occurs to interfere and it will extend through the week at least. No limit has been set upon the general debate yet, but an effort will be made during the week to pass a resolution placing a limit upon it, and that limit will be short. The Republicans talk about setting it at one week and the Democrats ask two weeks. An effort is being made to bring about a compromise on ten days, but with what success remains to be seen.

The leaders of the Republican side have consulted among themselves; they have consulted with the speaker, and they have consulted with the Democratic members of the ways and means committee, but always with the same unsatisfactory result. The matter now rests in the hands of the committee on rules, and a resolution will doubtless be reported from that committee at an early day. The only other important business to be considered in the house is the business which may come up under suspension of the rules.

The Republicans are to call up the river and harbor bill, as they claim that they have pledged them two-thirds vote necessary to take it up, but the speaker has not said that he will recognize a member of the committee to make the motion to take up the bill and its fate is still a problem. What other business may be called up under suspension is a matter of speculation and of no certainty. On Saturday afternoon the house will listen to eulogies on the late Representative Wilbur, of New York.

The senate business is pretty well mapped out for the week, although several important changes in the program may take place. The bill for the admission of Wyoming to the Union is down for consideration Monday, and the Jones silver bill for Wednesday. If the Jones bill should be taken up as per program, and the Wyoming bill should not have been disposed of, the latter will likely be taken up in the morning hour each day, while the Jones bill is considered after 2 o'clock.

The consideration of the Jones bill may be postponed if there seems any probability that the Republican caucus can come to an agreement, but as matters now stand the senate will go into the silver debate without any caucus action binding the Republican members. And if this condition remains unchanged it is altogether likely that the senate will pass a measure which will be in substance a free-coinage bill, or rather a bill for the free purchase of bullion. On Saturday the senate will consider measures on the calendar. One day during the week will be given over to the funeral of the late Senator Beck.

Saturday's Congress.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—In the house Saturday the motion to reconsider the international copyright law was ruled out of order until the judiciary committee has another day assigned it. The diplomatic and consular appropriation bill was considered and passed. A joint resolution was passed appropriating $1,000,000 to improve the Mississippi river, from the head of the passes to the mouth of the Ohio. Conference reports on public buildings for Ashland, Wis., and Cedar Rapids, Iowa, were agreed to, and at 4:30 the house adjourned.

Senate Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—In the senate bills were reported from the committee on commerce for the shipping league tonnage and for ocean mail service. The bill for the relief of Nat McKay was passed. Several bills of the calendar were also passed. The death of Mr. Beck was announced, and the senate adjourned at 4:30.

Our Squadron Ordered to Brazil.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—The squadron of evolution, now in European waters, has been ordered to proceed to Brazil.

Another Appropriation Bill Passed.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—The house has passed the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill.

A SNOW STORM IN MAY.

It is General Throughout the Northwest and in Some Places Six Inches.

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 5.—An unseasonable snow fell here yesterday to the depth of an inch or more. It soon melted, however. Reports indicate that the snow storm was very general throughout the northwest. From Lacrosse, Wis., to Jamestown, N. Dak., the storm extended and reached to the lake on the north. At Fergus Falls, Minn., it snowed for four hours, but melted immediately.

At Mankato six inches of snow is believed to be of benefit to the crops. Five inches fell at St. Peter. At Albert Lea it snowed nearly all day, as it did at St. Cloud, Bird Island, St. James, Redwood Falls, Lumberton and Faribault. At Jamestown, N. D., it snowed for twelve hours, the fall being estimated at four inches. This snow fall is generally regarded as favorable to big crops, late snows in former years having been invariably followed by big yields.

Used Canceled Stamps.

CRAWFORDVILLE, Ind., May 5.—Dr. Jasper Clough, of New Richmond, a small town twelve miles northwest of this place, has been arrested at his home by W. H. Needham, deputy United States marshal. The doctor is charged with violating the United States postal laws by using canceled two-cent postage stamps. Dr. Clough is a large and powerful man, a man of means and standing, and when the United States marshal attempted to arrest him he resisted, but was soon brought to time by a Colt's six-shooter.

AN EVEN HUNDRED.

A Fine Lot of Horses Entered for the Stake Races at the Coming Maysville Fair.

Decendents of Sultan, Aberdeen, Onward, Happy Medium and Many Other Noted Sires in the List.

An even hundred trotters have been entered for the stake races at the coming Maysville fair.

The list is a long one and represents many of the best blood lines in the country. Patrons of the race course can expect some rare sport when these trotters face the starter next August.

Notice to Tax-Payers!

The books of the City Assessor, returned for the year 1890, having been examined and corrected by the Board of Equalization are now in my hands and will be open for inspection until at which time the Board of Councilmen will hold a meeting to levy the tax for the year 1890, and to hear appeals, at that date only, from those who feel themselves aggrieved by the present assessment.

By order of Council.

New Goods! New Store! STOP AND READ!

Having disposed of all my stock of goods damaged by the late fire, I am now able to announce to the public that I will on Thursday, the 27th inst., open up in my elegant new store room on the N. W. corner of Market and Third streets, in Maysville, Ky., a new and complete stock of Staple and Fancy Groceries, Provisions, Canned Goods, &c., &c. I feel that I am at last able to supply to the people of Maysville and vicinity what they have long needed—a first-class grocery in every respect. I do not propose to quote prices on a few articles less than cost in order to get you to come to my house so I can have a chance to over-charge you on some other article, but by dealing with you fairly and giving you good goods at fair living profits, I shall expect to merit a liberal share of the patronage of the public.

Everybody is invited to call, and a special invitation is extended to the ladies. Country people are invited to bring all their produce to me and make my house their headquarters while in the city.
